HOTEL & LEISURE

The multimillion pound tourist industry relies heavily on the provision of modern visitor accommodation. Since a huge proportion of the nation's wealth is generated by the hospitality sector, hotel and leisure facilities must entice the traveller who is able to choose desirable destinations around the world. Baxter & Gillespie is involved in the refurbishment of historic and listed buildings and the creation of exciting new structures that redefine city rooflines. From Apex Hotels Edinburgh to the Radisson Hotel Group, the company's painting and decorating prowess has added a finishing flourish to some of Scotland's most iconic hotel and leisure facilities. The quality of accommodation is a major part of the tourism experience and the existence of pleasant, comfortable surroundings has a vital bearing on repeat business. Baxter & Gillespie's high standard of workmanship is in evidence throughout the hospitality sector.
